What is Scaffolding? Series 3

The communication between teacher and students are vital for a meaningful learning environment in the classroom. Scaffolding is a technique used by an instructor to assist a weak student to accomplish a task and gradually shift the responsibility to the student to continue learning without further assistance. The instructor assists students who are actually unable to go further without assistance. Once the teacher convinced that the students can do the task individually, the teacher starts fading from the problem or activities and gradually removes the scaffolding.

Thank You all
